taking place in a London hospital beginning in 1961.Â

ITV has released a trailer for Davenport and crew prior to the premiere on Oct. 10. The show follows the hospital's gynecological staff as they navigate their ways through the Sixties revolution.Â

The :60 trailer shows that the doctors and nurses in this hospital have more to worry about than the complexities of abortion and contraception in the '60s -- their private lives are also filled with secrets.Â
